DECLARATION OF ERIC EMMERICH

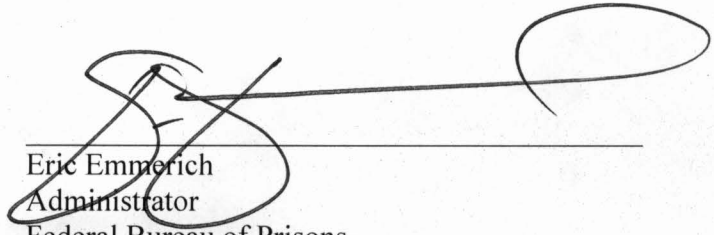

1. I, Eric Emmerich, currently serve as the Administrator, Correctional Services Branch, of the Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP). I have worked for the BOP since December 2001.

2. As Administrator of the Correctional Services Branch, I oversee BOP-related activities relating to security, emergency preparedness, and training.

3. I have reviewed ECF 399-22, entitled "After-Action Report Disturbance, Adams County Correctional Center, Natchez, Mississippi, May 20-May 21, 2012." This report details correctional security protocols and breakdowns at a private detention facility as analyzed by expert BOP personnel. It also includes recommendations and descriptions of security techniques described by those same expert BOP personnel. These security standards and techniques are common to both private detention facilities and BOP facilities. As a result, unsealing this information would threaten the safe and secure operation of both private detention facilities and BOP facilities as it would provide valuable information to individuals intent on disrupting operations or fomenting a disturbance.

4. Specific security procedures and practices within the realm of emergency response and intelligence operations are detailed within this document. Divulging such information not only threatens operations of correctional facilities, but the preservation of human well-being.

Executed this 4th day of February, 2021.

Correctional Services Branch
